

CONTENTS

	page
Acknowledgments	xiii
Foreword	xv
Abbreviations	xvii
Introduction. Background, Aims, Scope and Structure of the Book	1
I. The Elusive Notion of Service of General Economic Interest	9
1. Origins of the Term	9
2. Services of General Economic Interest as a Species of the Genus Services of General Interest	11
3. Economic Activity and Functional Approach	13
4. The Nuanced Functional Approach in the Fields of Social Security and Healthcare and the Legal (Un)Certainty Concerning Economic Social Services of General Interest	17
5. Concept of Non -Economic General Interest	28
II. Rationale, Content and Scope of Article 106(2) TFEU	31
1. Contextualization of Article 106 TFEU in EU Primary Law	31
2. The Evolving Interpretation of Article 106(1) and (3) TFEU and the Liberalization of Privatized Services of General Economic Interest	38
3. The Interplay between Public Undertakings, Special Rights and Exclusive Rights	41
4. The Relationship between Article 106(1) TFEU and Article 37 TFEU on Commercial Monopolies	44
5. Article 106(2) TFEU as a Sui Generis Derogation	46
6. Article 106(2) TFEU's Direct Effect	52
7. Role of the Commission pursuant to Article 106(3) TFEU	53

	page
III. Services of General Economic Interest beyond Article 106(2) TFEU	59
1. The Commission’s Stance on Services of General Economic Interest as a Pillar of the European Economic and Social Constitution	59
2. Article 14 TFEU, Protocol no. 26 on Services of General Interest, Social Cohesion and the Denationalization of Social Welfare	60
3. Article 36 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights and Access to Services of General Economic Interest	68
4. The Twofold Nature of Services of General Economic Interest: Derogation and Obligation	73
IV. Distribution of Competences between Member States and the EU	75
1. Universal Service, Services of General Economic Interest and Common European Values	75
2. What’s in a Service of General Economic Interest? The Identification of Public Service Obligations	78
V. Services of General Economic Interest and the Abuse of Dominant Position	81
1. The Joint Application of Article 106(1) TFEU and Article 102 TFEU	81
2. The CJEU’s Fluid Reading of Article 106(2) TFEU	84
VI. Services of General Economic Interest and State Aid	91
1. The Historical and Legal Background on the Financing of Services of General Economic Interest Prior to the ‘Almunia Package’	91
2. The ‘Almunia Package’ and the Social Dimension of State Aid	93
3. The Commission’s Sectorial Practice after the ‘Almunia Package’ and the Relevant Case Law of the CJEU	99
4. The Developments Regarding Economic Social Services of General Interest	102
5. The New Temporary Framework on State Aid in the Context of the Coordinated Economic Response to the COVID-19 Outbreak	106
Conclusions	117
Case Law	121
Bibliography	125
Index	139