

INDICE

---

INTRODUCTION

Globalisation, post Covid-19 crisis and international labour law

Gianni Arrigo, Mario Fasani

XI

1. Labour law, p. XI – 2. Challenges to international law and international labour law, p. XII – 3. International labour law, p. XIII – 4. Consolidation of labour law: constitutionalisation and internationalization, p. XIV – 4.1. The constitutionalisation of labour rights, p. XIV – 4.2. Internationalisation of labour law, p. XV – 4.3. Labour law at regional level, p. XIX – 5. European Pillar on Social Rights, p. XXII – 6. Conclusion, p. XXV.

CHAPTER I

Five Approaches to Protect Freelancers and the Experiment of Japan's 2023 Freelance Act

Takashi Araki

1

1. Introduction, p. 1 – 2. Five approaches to protect non-employee workers (freelancers), p. 3 – 2.1. Correcting misclassification, p. 3 – 2.2. Expanding the Concept of Employees, p. 4 – 2.3. Introducing the Intermediate Concept between Employee and Self-employed, p. 5 – 2.4. Freelance-specific Regulations, p. 5 – 2.5. Other Laws and Soft Law, p. 6 – 3. 2023 Freelance Act adopting Freelance-specific Regulations, p. 6 – 3.1. Enactment of the 2023 Freelance Act, p. 6 – 3.2. Freelance-specific Regulations that Differ from Labour Law, p. 7 – 3.3. Freelance-specific Regulations that Differ from Competition Law, p. 9 – 4. Significance and Challenges of the Freelance Act, p. 10 – 4.1. Enactment of the Freelance Act, p. 10 – 4.2. Evaluation of the Freelance-specific Regulations, p. 11 – 4.3. Appropriateness of Regulatory Content, p. 12 – 4.4. Complexities in the Concept of Employee, Worker, Freelance, and Business Operator, p. 13 – 4.5. Possibility of a unified employee concept?, p. 15 – 5. Conclusion, p. 16.

CHAPTER II

Quell'autunno del 1991 a Maastricht, che vide il rafforzamento della dimensione sociale europea

Gianni Arrigo

19

1. Gennaio 2024: ritorno a Val Duchesse, p. 19 – 2. Le riforme istituzionali europee a cavallo degli anni Novanta nel contesto di crisi e tensioni internazionali. Processi di integrazione e disintegrazione nelle due parti d'Europa divise dalla “cortina di ferro”. Genesi e sviluppo della dimensione sociale comunitaria, p. 22. – 3. Mercato e diritti sociali prima del Trattato di Maastricht, p. 29 – 3.1. Il “lungo sonno” del diritto sociale europeo e il suo “risveglio” col primo Programma di azione sociale (1974), p. 29 – 3.2. La nozione di “spazio sociale europeo”, p. 30 – 3.3. L'Atto Unico europeo. Il primo ampliamento della dimensione sociale comunitaria. L'avvio dei “dialoghi” di Val Duchesse, p. 31 – 3.4. Gli artt. 118-A e 118-B dell'Atto Unico europeo: due concezioni complementari della Politica sociale comunitaria, p. 35 – 4. La fase dell'integrazione sociale differenziata 1989-1991: a) la Carta comunitaria dei diritti sociali fondamentali dei lavoratori (1989), p. 36 – 5. (Segue). La fase dell'integrazione sociale differenziata: 1989-1991: b) il Protocollo e l'Accordo sulla Politica Sociale. La politica sociale “a due vie”, p. 40 – 6. Conclusioni. Il passaggio al nuovo secolo tra progetto e disincanto: l'adozione della Carta dei diritti fondamentali dell'Unione europea e l'incompiuta fase “costituzionale”, p. 44.

CHAPTER III

Occupational Safety and Health: a fundamental pillar of social justice

Mario Fasani

47

1. Introduction - Occupational Safety and Health as a cornerstone of social justice and decent work, p. 48 – 2. Historical evolution of OSH within the ILO framework, p. 50 – 2.1. Early norms: compensation and fragmentation, p. 50 – 2.2. Post-war industrialisation and the rise of hazard-specific conventions, p. 51 – 2.3. A holistic turn - Convention No. 155 (1981), p. 54 – 2.4. From norms to culture - Convention No. 187 (2006), p. 56 – 2.5. The road to recognition - from technical standards to fundamental rights, p. 58 – 3. Convention No. 155 - a global framework for OSH, p. 61 – 4. Convention No. 187 - promoting a culture of prevention, p. 64 – 5. The 2022 Resolution - OSH as a Fundamental Principle and Right at Work, p. 66 – 6. Challenges in universalising OSH, p. 69 – 7. Future directions - OSH in a changing world of work, p. 72 – 8. Conclusion - from recognition to realisation, p. 74 – References, p. 76.

CHAPTER IV

À espera do reencontro improvável

Roberto Fragale Filho

79

CHAPTER V

Pluralización, segmentación, expansión del Derecho del Trabajo

Adrián Goldin

91

1. Otra morfología estatutaria, p. 94 – 2. Tendencia de pluralización, p. 94 – 3. Derecho en expansión, p. 95 – 4. Bibliografía, p. 97.

CHAPTER VI

Hungarian mythical animals and what they symbolise

József Hajdú

99

1. The Wonder Stag, p. 100 – 2. Turul, p. 101 – 3. White Horse, p. 102.

CHAPTER VII

Questioni aperte in tema di salute e sicurezza sul lavoro in Italia

Paolo Pascucci

103

1. Premessa, p. 103 – 2. Genesi e finalità del d.lgs. n. 81/2008, p. 104 – 3. Ritardi nell'applicazione delle riforme: l'ambito oggettivo di applicazione e il sistema istituzionale, p. 105 – 4. L'ambito soggettivo di applicazione, p. 106 – 5. La questione del luogo di lavoro, p. 107 – 6. Alcune criticità relative al sistema di prevenzione aziendale, p. 108 – 6.1. La formazione dei datori di lavoro, p. 108 – 6.2. La chiarezza e la trasparenza dei ruoli degli organigrammi aziendali, p. 108 – 6.3. Gli appalti, p. 109 – 6.4. I sistemi di gestione e i modelli di organizzazione e di gestione della sicurezza sul lavoro, p. 110 – 6.5. La pariteticità, p. 111 – 7. Conclusione, p. 112.

CHAPTER VIII

The Presumption of Employment Relationship

Adalberto Perulli

113

1. Crisis of qualification, p. 113 – 2. The legal presumption of employment relationship within European Systems, p. 116 – 3. The European Directive legal presumption related to platform work, p. 119 – 4. The ABC-test: a comparison with the European legal presumption, p. 121 – 5. Legal presumption and presumption of fact, p. 124 – 6. Final Remarks, p. 127.

CHAPTER IX

There is one EU member State where employees no longer turn to the courts almost at all ...

Jan Pichrt

129

1. The Current Liberalisation Offensive in Czech Labour Law, p. 130 – 2. Why Alternative Dispute Resolution in Labour Law Matters, in the Czech Republic, does not work, p. 131 – 3. The Czech Republic - a country (almost) free of individual disputes between employees and employers, p. 133.

CHAPTER X

El convenio 190 y los desafíos de su aplicación por los estados

Wilfredo Sanguinetti Raymond

137

CHAPTER XI

Protection of social and labour rights at the ILO and the Council of Europe

Grega Strban

147

1. Introduction, p. 147 – 2. Protection of rights before the ILO, p. 150 – 2.1. Regular system of supervision, p. 151 – 2.2. Representations procedure, p. 152 – 2.3. Supervisory procedure before the Committee on Freedom of Association (CFA), p. 152 – 2.4. Complaints procedure, p. 153 – 3. Protection of rights before the Council of Europe, p. 154 – 3.1. Protection of rights before the ECSR, p. 154 – 3.1.1. Reporting system of the ESC, p. 155 – 3.1.2. The Collective Complaints Procedure, p. 157 – 3.2. Protection of rights before the ECtHR, p. 159 – 4. Concluding remarks, p. 160 – 5. Literature, p. 162.

CHAPTER XII

L'impresa sostenibile: implicazioni per il diritto del lavoro

Tiziano Treu

165

1. Il ruolo dell'impresa nelle transizioni ecologica e digitale, p. 166 – 2. Implicazioni per il diritto e le politiche del lavoro delle normative europee sulla responsabilità delle imprese, p. 168 – 3. Adattamenti legislativi e contrattuali alle transizioni: formazione professionale e politiche attive del lavoro, p. 170 – 4. Nuove competenze e profili professionali, p. 173 – 5. Alterazione dei luoghi e tempi del lavoro, p. 173 – 6. Sicurezza del lavoro e ambiente, p. 175 – 7. Superare le reazioni parziali e adattive, p. 177 – 8. Un nuovo punto di vista: la responsabilità dell'impresa e la due diligence, p. 178 – 9. L'indirizzo pubblico delle attività d'impresa, p. 181 – 10. Le implicazioni della costituzionalizzazione dell'ambiente, p. 182 – 11. Il coinvolgimento degli stakeholders, p. 184 – 12. Possibilità e condizioni della partecipazione nell'impresa, p. 187.

CHAPTER XIII

The Relationship between Trade Unions and Elected Workers' Representatives under the ILO Conventions: A View from the Perspective of German Law

Bernd Waas

189

I. Introduction, p. 189 – II. The Position under the ILO Conventions, p. 190 – III. The Position under German Law, p. 192 – 1. The Constitutional Guarantee of Freedom of Association, p. 192 – 2. Elected Workers' Representatives: The so-called "Works Constitution", p. 193 – 3. Differences between Trade Unions Representatives and Elected Workers' Representatives, p. 194 – 4. Relationship between Trade Unions and Works Councils, p. 195 – 5. The Relationship between Collective Agreements and Works Agreements, p. 196 – IV. Conclusion, p. 198.

CHAPTER XIV

Hard versus Soft Law: The Dilemma of Transnational Regulation

Manfred Weiss

199

I. Introduction, p. 199 – II. Lines of Development, p. 200 – 1. Standard Setting by the ILO as Starting Point, p. 200 – 2. Codes of Conduct as a First Step, p. 200 – 3. International Framework Agreements, p. 201 – 4. Declaration on Core Labour Rights, p. 203 – 5. The Decent Work Agenda, p. 203 – 6. Global Supply Chains, p. 204 – III. Conclusion, p. 208.

CHAPTER XV

A hidden shining jewel in the ILO crown – The ILO Turin Centre

Giuseppe E. Zefola, Dražen Petrović

211

1. Organ of the International Labour Organization, p. 213 – 2. Governance structure, p. 217 – 3. Financing of the Centre, p. 218 – 4. Legal status and privileges and immunities, p. 220.